Goal	Less information overload for busy people, without losing out on important events.	As iOS user, get only relevant tweets, so that I can stay up to date with only 5mins per day on Twitter.
User Activity		Open App and Login to Twitter	See my relevant Tweets	Look at only the things i'm interested now	Easily navigate through Tweets	Interact with tweet (retweet, favourite, reply, open link)	Continue where I left off later	Tweak my preferences	Send a tweet	Read a few things later
User Story (MVP)		Automatic twitter login (no interaction required)	Get latest tweets from timeline, and order according to retweet count	Search filter at top - simple text search	Autoscroll play and pause. Stop scrolling at end.	Open tweet on Twitter with deep link on tap (so that we can retweet/fav there)	Show the tweets that were active when reopening/reactivating the app	Set autoscroll speed	Simple tweet send (no people lookup)	Mark a few things to read later - that will pop as as highly relevant the next day/week
User Story (Later)		Allow logout, and support to use different account.	Don't show tweet if no retweets (not relevant yet)		Auto detect when I want to stop or autoscroll with gesture	Open link on Safari	Don't show tweets already viewed	Set how much "friends" I want to see. News vs Network. Friend: 2- way follow	People and handle lookup when sending tweet
		Support multiple accounts at once	Support up to a weeks timeline. Get more, older tweets if we are through list.			Retweet and like from within app (one tap on left)	Get latest and rerank tweets whenreopening/reacti vating the app	Set timescale	Fancy counting and url stuff when sending tweet
			Remove tweets and read items older than 1 week (work on 1 week timeframe)			Send a reply from within app - without a twitter deep link	Allow offline (tweets should be loaded from file). Just go on where you left off when app opens again	Light/dark	Remove need for Twitter deep link
			Relevance calculation should look at follower #, timeline, etc
			Make friends more visible (Friend: 2-way follow)
